

DR. JAEGER'S Pure Sanitary Woolen Underwear

A great deal of the sickness prevalent during this cold spell could be prevented by wearing Dr. Jaeger's pure and sanitary woolen underwear.

It prevents ingress of draught at front or back and is of double thickness over chest. It keeps the skin at an equable warmth in any weather.

It is a common mistake that woolen underwear is not necessary in Hawaii. Perhaps in no other place in the world can light woolen undergarments be worn with more beneficial results. Dr. Jaeger's woolen underwear is endorsed by the world's leading physicians.

TALK ABOUT WAIALUA

Increase of Capital Not Contemplated by Directors.

"The directors of Waialua Agricultural Company have not considered such a question. It has not been spoken of among them."

Thus did E. D. Tenney of Castle & Cooke, Ltd., cast a wet blanket upon an anticipation voiced on the street that the Waialua directorate, at the annual meeting of the company, would propose an increase of its capital stock to five million dollars from its present amount of $4,500,000.

Nevertheless, according to well-defined discussion outside, the question will come up at the annual meeting.

"If the directors will not make the proposition," a man on the street said yesterday morning, "some of the stockholders will, but I have heard that the directors themselves are likely to submit the matter."

It appears that some stockholders of Waialua have been doing a little figuring, the result of which is a conclusion in their minds that the proposed new issue of half a million of stock would place the enterprise forthwith upon a dividend-paying basis. They seem to have no doubt that the public would quickly absorb whatever amount of the new stock the present stockholders might leave after being offered the usual privilege in such cases of first option.

A CHINESE WEDDING

Lee Sou Chin Takes Little See Lee to Wife.

Mr. Ah Chew requests the pleasure of your company at a dinner upon the occasion of the marriage of his son, Lee Sou Chin, Monday afternoon, January 23, 1905, at 7:30 o'clock, at the residence, King and Nuuanu streets, Honolulu, T. H.

That was the invitation to the concluding function attendant upon the marriage of the eldest son of the house of Ah Chew to pretty Little See Lee, a girl born in Honolulu, who yet has feet as small as any blue blooded lady in the Central Flowery Kingdom. See Lee is twenty years of age, and the groom is but eighteen—and looks several years younger than that. The wedding proper, when the bride was carried to the nouse of the groom, took place on Saturday. That was a function for the family of Ah Chew solely—for when a Chinese woman marries she leaves her own father and becomes the child of the groom's people.

The wedding feast for the Chinese friends took place on Sunday, and was attended by high feeding, and enough of fire crackers to have stocked a fairly respectable Chinese New Year.

Last night, the American friends of Ah Chew sat down at table in a large room hung with red banners that might have told many tales if any of the guests could have read them, and were regaled after the most swell Chinese manner. There were delicacies no one of the guests could have named to save his life, and bashing of fire crackers and hard and soft drinks and cigars. The groom, attired in a long robe of blue silk and looking more a boy even than his years in the dress was the center of the feast, but the small footed bride tottered in, veiled and gorgeously attired, to greet the guests, and to do honor to her husband's friends, bowing before each one, presenting him a cup of hot tea, by the hands of a servant, and clasping her own hands together in sign that she wished the guests the best of fortune.

The feast was continued until a late hour, and attracted the admiring attention of many Chinese passers and of the servants of the household, who really seemed to take a family interest in all the details of the wedding.

MAY CHANGE NAME OF CUTTER BEAR

The revenue cutter Bear, now in Honolulu harbor, at some future time may have her name changed and receive some Indian designation instead. The Washington Star of January 2 says of the contemplated changes of names in the revenue cutter service:

The revenue cutter service bureau of the Treasury Department a year or two ago adopted the plan of naming the vessels of the cutter service after Indian tribes, and it is stated that the names of the older cutters will be gradually changed to conform to this plan. The first change to be made is in the name of the cutter Galveston. The cutter is being rebuilt at Cramp's shipyard at Wilmington, Del., and when she goes into service will be known as the Apache. The fact that there is a Galveston in the navy is an additional reason for the changing of the name of the revenue cutter.

The first day I took Paine's Celery Compound the great improvement began."—G. W. Berry, Galesburg, Ill.

Paine's Celery Compound, the celebrated Nerve Vitalizer and Tonic, cures quickly—braces and invigorates at once. No other remedy in the world is like it. WIG-WAGGERS WERE TIRED

The members of the Signal Corps, National Guard of Hawaii, who went to Barber's Point last Sunday by train had a hard time. They were taken about seven miles beyond the place at which they had originally intended to stop, having heard that by so doing they could gain the summit of the ridge of mountains more easily.

The men climbed the ridge only to find that another and a higher one intervened between them and Diamond Head, where another detachment of signalmen was in waiting to commence signal work. The Barber's Point detachment had to descend the first ridge and ascend the higher one, a task involving considerable leg weariness.
